Intra-collegiate competition – IMMUNO RANGOLI

The Department of Microbiology conducted an intra-collegiate competition on the topic Immuno Rangoli on 10th October 2023 for students of I, II, and III years from different streams. The event was organized to bring awareness about our body's immune system function and how the defense mechanism works when a person gets an infection. All the students represented rangoli art with various colours, in which different defense cells involved in body protection against infection were drawn. Ms. Heena Asra from the Department of Biotechnology and Mr. P. Ganesh from the Department of Psychology were the judges for the event. I, II, and III prizes were given to the winners.

Prize winners list

1. Ch. Manasa and G. Pranivaka (BTMC III) -----I prize
2. M. Dharani and Sandeepthi Kulkarni (BTMC III) —II prize
2. Shreeja and Charani (B. Com CA III) -----III prize
