

Short Report

Write – Up on National Education Policy

The National Education Policy, 2020 (NEP) envisions a significant transformation in education, emphasizing the core values and principles that education should instill in students. As part of the intercollegiate competitions, the Commerce and Management department hosted a competition called "Write-Up" on the New Education Policy on February 1, 2024, from 11:30 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. in room D01. The main aim of conducting this activity was to help students learn about the National Education Policy (NEP) and enhance their writing skills. Students from LFDC and other colleges, representing various streams, showed keen interest in the topic. They actively participated and demonstrated their presentation skills by writing a report on the National Education Policy (NEP). Through their write-up, they shared their views and opinions about the New Education Policy.

Students from different colleges, participating in the competition

Faculties in charge, supervising the participants

Participants writing the write-up students, and faculties in charge